Respect Earns Respect

by: Ali, Satya, Shafin, and Justine.

"Respect Earns Respect" is the theme of this month. Respect earns respect means that when you respect someone, they will respect you back. Kunwadh from grade 4B said, "Respect earns respect means we can respect our teachers and we can respect our friends and families. We also don’t want to bully people." Rhone from grade 4D said, "Respect earns respect means helping people around the world and showing respect and trustworthiness."

Tr. Morgan said that, "Respect earns respect means that if you want someone to treat you fairly, you must be fair to them. My grandma always said, "Treat people how you want to be treated."

Tr. Navy said "Respect earns respect means when you give people respect, they will respect you back."

It is always nice and kind to respect others and also think of others and if you want to be respected, you must start with yourself. Others will never respect you if you do not respect them. When you think of others and respect them, they will do the same thing back.

Essential Questions

Essential questions are good for you to understand the unit. Essential questions are also good for you to learn new subjects.
Essential questions are easy and hard to figure it out. They are introduced at the beginning, during and at the end of a unit.

Essential questions might be confusing at first, but as we learn more about the unit we will understand more about it. They are usually included in section 3 of our self-knowledge journals, which are used to reflect on what we have learned, what activities worked for us, and the main ideas of our units.

Justine Jade from grade 5A said, "It is fun! Also, it is very new to this school." Ali from grade 4B said, "It is great and hard for [him]". Shafin from grade 4B said, "The essential questions are hard and easy. I like to answer the essential questions, too." Dara from grade 4A said, "I feel that it is hard to do."

The essential questions might be a little bit hard, but if we try hard we may learn a lot and actually enjoy them!

Music

"See You Again"

Artists: Wiz Khalifa and Charlie Puth

By: Dara & Kunwadh

This song is interesting because it sounds good. It has both a rapper and a slow singer on it. It is not too fast and not too slow. The song is good but kind of sad because it was written for Paul Walker who died in a car crash in 2013. His friend also died in the crash because they were racing unsafely. The song is the number one hit all over the world. It is also famous because it is the soundtrack of the movie "The Fast and Furious 7." The movie was a tribute made for Paul Walker who died before they finished filming the movie. As you can see, it is the seventh movie, and so the cast from the film are close like a family. To us, it is just a cool song, but to them it is like a memory of Paul Walker.

Earthquakes in Nepal
By: Beom Jin, Jeffrey, Jyhoon, Nimo, Raksa, and Wendy.

Earthquakes in Nepal! Nepal is in Asia, between India and China. Nepal had two earthquakes recently. One earthquake was on the 25th of April 2015 at 11:56. This earthquake is called “Gorkha” earthquake. The earthquake killed more than 8,000 people. It had a magnitude 7.8 on the Richter scale. It happened in the village of Barpark, Gorkha district. It affected countries like India, Tibet and Bangladeshi. Moreover, it caused an avalanche on Mount Everest.

The second earthquake in Nepal occurred on May 12th, 2015 at 12:35 in Nepal central time. The magnitude of this earthquake was 7.3 and it happened near Kathmandu and Mount Everest. It killed more than 200 people. Lakshmi, a student from G5C said that “It killed a lot of people and damaged many buildings and many people suffered and I feel so sad for the people who died.” Also, Tr.Morgan, a G3 teacher said that “I feel it’s a very sad story and it is a tragedy that so many people were killed and injured, I send prayers to their family members.”

We suggest students to donate some money to the injured people in Nepal because they don’t have any money to cure themselves from the injuries or the impact of the earthquake.

Games

“Five Nights at Freddy 2”

Platform: PC, Mac, iPad, and iPhone.

By: Sakmonnee & Rhone

This is a horror game that has animatronics as characters. We play as a security guard and our job is to survive until 6 A.M. At nighttime, the animatronics move. They try to jump out and scare you. If you survive, you will go to the next night, and if you can survive the first 5 nights, you will get a special night, which is night 6. Things start to get difficult here. After that, you will unlock another night called "Custom Night."

William said, "It is horrible, and not good. The graphics are poor, and it is too cartoony."

The game can be addictive if you play it too much. It has been known to cause some people nightmares. Enjoy!
